

Shadows can hover over this community, but Jesus always pulls through. We have to remember that now and always. Our hearts should be filled & overflowing with Christ's love, so that we can show it to others.

