To Whom It May Concern:

My heart and those of my family, and I am certain all Americans, is just broken over the loss of 19 brave firefighters. I just cannot imagine how the families must feel as they deal with this incredible loss. There are not a lot of options for the average person in terms of what we can do to mitigate this dreadful disaster, but I thought that at least sending along some money might help to defray unanticipated expenses.

May God bless these 19 brave firefighters and all of the first responders working in and around the Yarnell Fire.

With deepest sympathy,
