We finally made it — AGSIM is visible from Interstate 17 that runs through Phoenix. Not that the campus has moved, but after more than three years of prodding the Arizona Department of Transportation with letters from AGSIM personnel, local politicians, etc., the department erected the signs in early September.

Roger Hatton, traffic engineer in the traffic systems design office of the Transportation Department did a superb job in managing to keep our lengthy name within the limits of freeway sign size regulations.

All of us on campus are extremely happy to have the signs — the recognition and visibility afforded AGSIM are invaluable!

Many of the staff saw a little humor in the far left shot and we tried to think of a caption, but then decided it might be nice to let you have a stab at it. Send your suggestions to Sonia Thurmond, Editor, Thunderbird Magazine, AGSIM, Glendale, Arizona 85306.

Tom Machia Presented President's Award at May Graduation

Thomas J. Machia, ('54), president of Essner Metal Works, Inc., Fort Worth, Texas, was presented the President's Award at the school's May commencement exercises. The award was presented in recognition of his outstanding business career and his close service association with AGSIM.

With a B.S. degree in chemical engineering from Rice University, Machia attended AGSIM and after graduating in 1954, he joined Dow Chemical Co. He later became associated with a Houston-based oil tool company and did field engineering and sales work throughout the oil fields of Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. In 1957 he started a business as a manufacturers' agent, representing firms specializing in contract manufacturing for industry.

In 1959, he acquired the assets of Essner Metal Works and formed the present corporation, of which he is president and majority stockholder. In addition, he continues his agency business, concentrating in the area of plastic extrusion for highly specialized industrial and geophysical exploration applications. Essner Metal Works specializes in the manufacture of precision stampings, sheet metal fabrications, and assemblies for other manufacturers.

Machia has long been an active supporter of AGSIM and is a member of the Presidents Council.

Gulf Oil Chairman Featured Speaker at August Commencement

The sixth summer indoor commencement was held on August 13 at the Mountain Shadows Resort in Scottsdale. The 152 graduates, family, friends and school personnel heard James E. Lee, chairman of the board, Gulf Oil Corporation, call for understanding of the position and often the plight of multinational corporations.

He said that multinationals should not be regarded as "rogue elephants riding roughshod over national laws and popular aspirations alike, in the single minded pursuit of profits," but rather should be viewed as organizations that are "attempting simultaneously to meet the different, and sometimes conflicting, goals of a variety of constituents."

The Barton Kyle Yount Award went to Thomas Wayne Short, a graduate of Dartmouth College from Portland, Oregon.

Top teacher awards went to Dr. Robert Moran, International Studies; Bahia Gulick of the Arabic section and Lilith Schutte of the German section tied for the Modern Language honors; and Dr. Carl Frear took the World Business Department award.

The ceremonies were followed by dinner and a dance.

Goodyear Executive Addresses May Graduates

Ib Thomsen, president, Goodyear International Corporation, executive vice president and a director of The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, parent company of Goodyear International, delivered the school's 82nd commencement address on May 21.

In his speech, Thomsen called for graduates to continue to gain knowledge of the international economic and political problems of the world. He cited the world situation of today, ". . . a world preoccupied on the one hand with the east-west dialogue, which is concerned with who rules the world in geopolitical terms, as well as with the north-south dialogue, which concerns itself with who owns the world in economic terms."

He then discussed his perceptions of the socio-economic realities of different parts of the world—Latin America, Africa, the Middle East, Southeast Asia, the Pacific Basin and Europe.

He stated that the free enterprise system has produced unprecedented wealth in past generations, but "that the need to balance economic growth with social justice has meant that the free enterprise system has become less of a driving force in economic development both in the industrialized and developing world." He added that he would "rather talk in terms of predominantly market-oriented economies than completely free enterprise systems. The political compromise processes in all the democracies of the world will undoubtedly be geared to a greater degree of accommodation with divergent socio-economic views, which process of accommodation will increasingly play a role in the developmental processes of the less developed countries."

He told the graduates that "it will fall on your shoulders to play a role in assuring that social justice can co-exist with the individual pursuit of excellence."

Three hundred and sixty-three students received their MIM degrees at the Central Quad.

Top teacher awards went to Richard Mahoney, International Studies Department; Dr. Taeho Kim, World Business Department, and to Dr. Jorge Valdivieso, Spanish section, Modern Language Department.

Barbara Buntin of Des Moines, Iowa, and a graduate of Washburn University, took the Barton Kyle Yount Award.

The Average

Thunderbird

by Liz Konold '79

"On the average, a man with one foot on a hot stove and one foot on a block of ice can be considered comfortable."

With this analogy in mind, consider a recent random sample survey of AGSIM alumni that gave the following profile of the "average" Thunderbird.

He is between 40 and 45 years old, from the class of 1969, with an M.I.M. degree emphasizing marketing. Our average alumnus lives in the northeastern United States with his wife and two children. He is in an upper management position, and the annual income is between $35,000 and $45,000.

Perhaps more accurate are profiles for each five-year class grouping.

1947-51 Male, age 60 years, married, supporting 2.5 people on a household income of $45,-50,000, he is in an upper management level position in the marketing/sales field. He holds a B.F.T. degree from A.I.F.T.

1952-56 Male, 55 years old, he is married, with four in his family, and a household income between $45-50,000. This alumnus holds a B.F.T. degree and works in an accounting related field in an upper management level position.

1957-61 Male, 50 years old, this grad is married, with a family size of 4.4 people, and a household income between $45-50,000. He is in an upper management position in a marketing related field.

1962-66 Male, age 45 years, this alumnus has a 14 percent chance of having an advanced degree in addition to the B.F.T. degree, and is just as likely to be in marketing as in finance. He supports a family of four people, with a household income of $40-50,000.

1967-71 Male, 40 years old, married, this alumnus is the first to receive the M.I.M. degree, with an emphasis on marketing. About one-third of his classmates have master's degrees in other fields. His family's income is between $50-60,000, and the size of the family is 2.3 people. He has the highest position of any other profile, ranging from high upper-management to executive level.

1972-76 Male, age 35 years, this alumnus has a fifty-fifty chance of being married, with a family of 3 people. He received the M.I.M. degree and has a 10 percent chance of having an advanced degree in another field. His class had a split between marketing and finance majors, and he holds a mid-to-upper-management position, with a household income of $45-50,000.

1977-81 Male, age 30 years, this alumnus is most likely to be single, and 25 percent of his classmates hold another advanced degree besides the M.I.M. He majored in marketing and is in an entry-level to mid-management position, supporting 1.7 people on a household income between $20-30,000.

Of the questionnaire respondees, 93 percent are U.S. citizens, and almost 20 percent live overseas. One-third reported incomes of $50,000 or more. Fifty-two percent majored in marketing, 21 percent in finance/banking. Forty-four percent of these graduates received some sort of financial aid when attending AGSIM.

Because of the "averaging," female graduates of AGSIM got lost in the shuffle of figures. It is only fair to point out that within the past ten years, over 20 percent of AGSIM graduates have been women, and many of the class group statistics regarding position, family size, and household income would apply equally to them.

When asked about their attitudes toward the American Graduate School, 94 percent reported "some" or "strong" feelings, and 75 percent felt the School's reputation had improved since graduation. Only 10 percent felt the reputation had diminished; more recent graduates tended to be more critical.

When asked if they had contributed to the School, 42 percent responded "yes," with 60 percent of those saying they give on an annual basis. Thus, about one-fourth of the respondees consider themselves annual contributors to AGSIM, although participation from all alumni in 1980-81 was about 16 percent. This may be explained by the innate bias in such a survey, in that those responding generally have positive attitudes toward and want to help the School.

Seventy-seven percent stated they plan to give in the future. Only one class group (1957-61) indicated that future gifts would be the same or smaller. A grad echoed his classmates' sentiments by stating, "Your questionnaire does not cover an important situation I face—which I'm sure is faced by many in my age group. 1.) I currently have a child attending an eastern university. Tuition, room and board (equal) $10,500 a year, after-tax dollars. 2.) I have two younger children who will be starting college in 1984 and 1988." The following areas of concern about AGSIM were ranked by the alumni in order of greatest interest:

1. Academic quality
2. International activities
3. Alumni activities
4. Admission standards
5. Executive training seminars
6. Individual departments
7. Student life
8. Other

The service from the Alumni Office was ranked as "good to excellent" by 60 percent, "average" by 29 percent, and "poor or needs to improve" by 11 percent. The Thunderbird Magazine was read by everyone, and received favorable reviews, with several suggestions for even more news about alumni.

Written comments particularly showed the interest in and need for more organized alumni activities, with statements such as "more programs for alumni . . .," "more parties . . .," "planned activities . . .," "local, regional fund raising picnics, sporting events, dinners," "development of local associations . . .," "sponsoring seminars, promoting daytime meetings . . ."

Other requests ranged from "free beer at the pub . . ." to an alumni roster (names and addresses), alumni recruiting committees, class reunions, more personal contact and communication, and more information on the School's accomplishments and expenditure of money received. Many of these suggestions are in the process of being implemented: 25th class year reunions, (see story, page 12) preliminary steps to forming an alumni association, and more planned alumni activities.

For those interested in more information, the following publications are available on request from the Alumni Office:

- The Annual Report (financial statements)
- The Corporate Review (information on corporate grants)
- Thunderbirds Overseas
- Alumni Placement Service (donors to the Thunderbird Fund receive this at no charge)
- Class lists of alumni
- Regional lists of alumni

The response from this questionnaire, as well as feedback received in regular correspondence, Phonathons and alumni meetings, is appreciated—brickbats and bouquets alike. In our eyes, the "average" Thunderbird is an outstanding person! With alumni participation and communication, AGSIM will be able to serve you as we would like.

Liz Konold was director of Development Services and directed the Thunderbird Fund 1981-82 and supervised the recording and acknowledgement of gifts to AGSIM. She worked in direct sales and fundraising in California, prior to receiving her M.I.M. in 1979. The survey was an outgrowth from the AGSIM class on "Market Research and Buyer Behavior," and was used as a guide in planning last year's fundraising campaign.

John James Arthur

Arthur Named to Dean of Admissions Post

John James Arthur (BFT '57 and MAIM '71) has been named dean of admissions effective November 1, 1982, according to Dr. William Voris. Arthur takes the post held by Dean Robert L. Gulick, Jr. since he joined the school in 1964. Dr. Gulick will remain with AGSIM as foreign student adviser and professor of international studies.

A graduate of the University of Houston, Arthur spent more than 10 years in Southeast Asia in the export-import business before joining the school in 1968. He has served the school in various positions, the most recent being registrar and college relations officer.

The post of director of college relations goes to Mrs. Julia Harvey, who has been with the school for 12 years and has served as Arthur's assistant since 1972.

Trustee Honored

Edward M. Carson, president and chief executive officer of First Interstate Bank of Arizona, and AGSIM Board of Trustees member since 1972 was named 1982 chairman for the Freedom Fund Dinner of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) of Maricopa County. He received the chapter's 1982 Image Award for outstanding community service during the dinner.

World Business Chairman Appointed to Reagan's Private Sector Survey Committee

Dr. Clifton Cox, chairman, World Business Department and former chairman of Armour & Company and vice chairman and member of the executive office of Greyhound Corporation, is serving as project manager for the agriculture section on cost control of President Reagan's Private Sector Survey Committee. Appointed to the committee earlier this year, he is working in Washington, D.C. until November 1.

During a recent interview, Dr. Cox explained that the President's Survey Committee's executive committee is comprised of 150 chief executives of businesses and organizations in the U.S., and that Mr. J. Peter Grace, chairman and CEO of W.R. Grace Co., is serving as chairman.

Appointed as project manager for the agriculture section on cost control, Dr. Cox's 30 person staff, all from private industry, includes six people with Ph.D. degrees and 17 individuals with master's degrees. All members are being paid by their individual employers, therefore no expense for their services is being incurred by the U.S. Government. Dr. Cox's group will identify problem areas within the Agriculture Department, and at the conclusion of their assignment make recommendations to the executive committee of the Survey Committee.

Dr. Cox is well suited to this task in view of his years of experience with Armour & Company and Greyhound. In addition, he has his Ph.D. degree in agricultural economics from Purdue University.

Founding Trustee O'Malley Dies

Edward V. O'Malley, Sr., chairman emeritus of the board of The O'Malley Companies, Inc. and one of the founding trustees of American Graduate School of International Management, died on May 24, 1982. He was 77. Long active in the Phoenix community, O'Malley was also on the board of directors of First National Bank of Arizona (First Interstate Bank), Phelps Dodge Corporation, Arizona Public Service Company and St. Joseph's Hospital, among others. After completing his education at Harvard University in 1928, O'Malley joined the family business, O'Malley Lumber Co., started by his uncle and his father in 1908.

He became general manager in 1938, president in 1948, chairman of the board in 1967 and chairman emeritus in 1976.

Visiting Professor Disappears in Mexico

Dr. Nicholas W. Schrock, visiting professor from the University of Colorado, has been missing in Mexico since May 30, 1982. He had returned in mid-May from Japan and the People's Republic of China, where he had been in conjunction with AGSIM's exchange programs at the Institute for International Studies and Training and the Beijing Institute for Foreign Trade. On his way to a teaching post for the summer semester at the Autonomous University in Guadalajara, Mexico, Schrock was reported as overdue on June 4. The Oficina de Poblacion de Nogales, Sonora, confirms that he crossed the border into Mexico on May 30 with permission to remain in the country for 180 days. He has not been heard from since.

Rumor, speculation, and conjecture have been the order of the day in response to the twisted maze of events since his mysterious disappearance. Charges of corruption, ineptitude, and even murder have been levied against the civic officials of San Ignacio, Sinaloa, a small town near Mazatlan, where Dr. Schrock's truck was found. Reports indicate the town officials found the truck on June 6 or 7 but failed to report its discovery until August 2.

During this time period a young man confessed to the murder of Dr. Schrock, promising to produce the body for officials. When officials and Mrs. Schrock arrived to view the body, there was none, and the young man subsequently retracted his confession. What had appeared to be the resolution of the case had itself given rise to more questions, such as why the young man had confessed in the first place.

The discovery of the truck in San Ignacio gave rise to further theories as an investigation led to the charges of conspiracy, cover-up, and homicide being levied against the mayor, the chief of police, and four deputies in San Ignacio. It was reported that Dr. Schrock's truck had been used from the time of its discovery until the August 2 report of the discovery for campaigning purposes for the Mexican presidential election.

Another confession emerged and a body was exhumed from the local cemetery. The body was identified by local Mexican authorities to be that of Professor Schrock. The body was sent to Boulder, Colorado for internment, but upon arrival it was determined that the body was not that of Schrock but that of an aged Mexican man. The mayor of San Ignacio, denied any involvement in Schrock's disappearance. He further said that "the disappearance was strange" and he hoped "nothing bad has happened to Professor Schrock." Again, apparent resolution led investigators back to the starting point.

With the discovery of the misidentification, the case has been reopened. Ambassador John Gavin, U.S. envoy to Mexico, has lent the full support of his staff to the investigation. Ruth Schrock, when asked about the possibility of finding the truth concerning her husband's disappearance replied, "I am not hopeful."

There are still many theories regarding Dr. Schrock's disappearance. It is quite possible that they may remain just that—theories.

Presently, seven people have been charged and are on trial in Culiacan, Sinaloa. The San Ignacio police chief has been charged with homicide, two policemen as accomplices to homicide and four others as accessories in helping cover up the crime.

At press time, no word regarding the trial or any information regarding Professor Schrock has been forthcoming from either U.S. or Mexican officials.

Paul M. Wilson February 23, 1915 - August 3, 1982

AGSIM lost one of its best on August 3, 1982, when professor Paul Wilson died at Barrows Neurological Center in Phoenix. Memorial services were held at Grimshaw Bethany Chapel on Saturday, August 7. He is survived by a son, Gary, of Phoenix, and a daughter, Janet Squires of Houston, Texas, and two grandchildren.

The man who made accounting "come alive" joined AGSIM (then AIFT) in its second year, 1947, and taught full-time through 1980 and part-time through 1981. Always a favorite of T-Birds, Paul had a rare gift—he was a born teacher.

He was a humble and unaffected man and he shunned any public recognition of his many talents, though he was so justly deserving. But he left a mark—on the thousands of minds and hearts he touched in 34 years of teaching. What he imparted to his students will go on and is, in truth, the only kind of memorial Paul Wilson would have wanted.

Professor Wilson's family has requested that the Pauline Wilson Memorial Fund, set up by Paul at the time of his wife's death in 1977, be renamed for both Paul and Pauline. Contributions to the Paul and Pauline Wilson Memorial Fund may be sent to AGSIM in care of Berger Erickson, Executive Vice President.

To Paul M. Wilson:

*We gave you our thoughts —
It was not enough.
We gave you our concern —
It was not enough.
We gave you our love —
It was not enough.
You gave us your life —
It was enough.*

Mexico . . . Paul Reiss has been selected as the Mexico Thunderbird Alumni Association's "Man of the Year." Paul is president of Bic Pen of Mexico, and was interviewed recently by The News in Mexico City regarding his selection.

The alumni meet for breakfast the first Thursday of every month and Paul was the speaker on June 3.

Thunderbird Club of New England . . . Monthly meetings are held the first Tuesday of the month at Foreign Affairs on State Street.

According to chapter president Jay Donovan, two new board members have been appointed: Sandra Jenkins ('77) and Tom Curran ('82), and events for the year are being planned. #### Trans-Europa Chapter Being Considered

Carl Eidsness and Lo Locher organized a meeting in Mainz, West Germany, on the weekend of October 9 and 10 to further explore the idea of a formal founding of a Trans-Europa Thunderbird chapter. A tentative agenda for the weekend included:

- a business meeting to determine if and how to organize the chapter
- a tour of the C.A. Kupferberg sparkling wine cellars
- a "Sekt" tasting
- a tour on a Rhine steamer along the river's most picturesque stretch
- a walk through Mainz's "Alstadt" with visits to its many wine pubs

Carl can be reached c/o A. Racke, Kupferbergterrasse 17, 65 Mainz, West Germany, or phoned at 49/6131/105252. He is anxious for suggestions and/or offers to assist.

Hawaii . . . A lei greeting, pupus, tropical drinks, and live Hawaiian music and hula dancers highlighted the recent gathering of Hawaii alumni in honor of Dr. and Mrs. William Voris. Thirty alumni and guests were on hand to renew old acquaintances and make new friends at the first major get-together in Hawaii in almost two years.

The event, held at the Honolulu Club, was organized by June Pearson Sweetser ('77), Dennis Oshiro ('72), and Fred Smoot ('66). During the evening, T-Birds were treated to a showing of the new slide presentation on Thunderbird and were given an update of the school's recent accomplishments by Dr. Voris.

As the revellers partied into late evening, they vowed to continue the fun by getting together on a more regular basis.

Coming November 6 and 7 Cornucopia of Color

A cornucopia of color is coming to AGSIM on November 6 and 7. The Eighth Annual Thunderbird Invitational Balloon Race will likely have 100 balloons coloring the morning air on the school's "back forty" during the festive weekend.

Once again, student booths will feature foods from around the world with most of the operations being sponsored by campus clubs. However, entrepreneurship shines through and many a student loan payment has been assisted by profits derived from hard work and good vittles prepared by "Thunderbirds in residence."

The Friends of Thunderbird in conjunction with the Glendale Chamber of Commerce began planning and organizing the Eighth Annual Race soon after last November's event, which netted over $30,000 for the school's scholarship fund. Sponsorships for the race are going for $325 and for that fee the sponsor receives two tickets to the highly praised Hot Air Affair (international dinner, silent auction and calcutta) held the Friday evening before the first race day. In addition, sponsors are treated to a brunch, held two weeks prior to the race, and a half-page ad in the Balloon Race program is included—and it's all tax deductible.

This year the students have organized a two-mile fun run on Sunday, November 7 at 10 a.m. for all the running enthusiasts who will be attending. They would be happy to have some alums join their ranks.

We hope T-Birds will come to consider the Balloon Race as AGSIM's "homecoming" event and plan a visit to campus. The Alumni Office will be open with coffee and doughnuts available both Saturday and Sunday mornings, with stronger refreshment available on Saturday afternoon.

Nearly 75 alums visited the office during the 1981 race, and we hope to see more of you this year!

'57 Class Silver Reunion Set for December 16-17

Plans for the Silver Anniversary Reunion for the class of 1957 are underway and we're hoping for a large crowd.

The schedule of events includes an informal reception on Thursday evening, December 16, in the Goldwater Lounge. Faculty and staff will join you, old acquaintances can be renewed and past good times remembered, and you can catch up on news about the growth and development of AGSIM.

On Friday, December 17, after a morning gathering in the alumni office, tours of campus are available for those interested. Then there is the pre-commencement luncheon with the board of trustees at the President's residence. Also attending the luncheon will be the commencement speaker, Dr. Thomas Horton, president and chief executive officer of American Management Associations.

At the commencement exercises, held in the late afternoon in the Central Quad (just like 1957), each alum will be presented their Silver Anniversary Graduation Certificate.

Of course, following graduation there is the party, organized by the graduating class, at a local resort. Everyone is encouraged to attend and information regarding tickets will be available when you arrive on campus. Personal preference remains the determining factor with regard to attendance.

The '56 Reunion drew 12 attendees and we're hopeful that the class of 1957 can double that figure. Please phone Cathy Benoit, (602) 978-7135, for more information and assistance with local accommodations and reservations. MARK YOUR CALENDARS NOW — and plan to attend YOUR 25th Silver Reunion.

HONOR ROLL OF DONORS 1981-82

Alumni giving reached a record high of $119,137 in 1981-82, an increase of 29 percent. Alumni also generated an additional $38,824 of $47,135 in corporate matching gifts, for a total of $157,961 given to the School. Kenneth A. Jacuzzi, International Thunderbird Fund Chairman for 1981-82, matched new and increased dollars with a generous challenge grant. The average gift increased from $50 in 1980-81 to $65 in 1981-82.

The number of donors remained at the same level as the previous year. Only fifty-five percent of donors in 1980-81 responded with a gift in 1981-82. Yet over 800 first-time donors did respond. Those alumni giving in consecutive years will become members of the Encore Club, designated in the Honor Roll by the symbol "e."

Presidents Council

Members of the Presidents Council are invited to participate in an advisory capacity to President William Voris and to support the Graduate School with an annual gift of $1,000 or more. Over $50,000, received from members and corporate matching contributions, is being used to augment and improve academic programs.

The Presidents Council was formed in 1981-82 and membership is on an invitational basis only.

is what happens when you work for a matching gift company and your contribution is doubled, tripled or even quadrupled. A pilot project with 21 companies increased the overall contribution level of Thunderbirds within those companies from 19.8 percent in 1980-81 to 26.3 percent in 1981-82. Total matching gifts increased to $47,135 from $26,719 in one year.

AGSIM's New Activities Center

by S. Russell Dworkin

Slowly, but surely, the campus of AGSIM has undergone many transformations in the past 35 years. The renovation of old buildings and the construction of new ones has served to partly diminish the military camp atmosphere and bring forth an appearance more commonly associated with an academic institution. Indeed, former denizens of campus dormitories must bear fond memories as the recent renovation of D building brought the last barracks-style dorm into the modern era with new fixtures, carpeting, and most belovedly—air conditioning. A new classroom building gave students a more academic setting and teachers a more professional arena for teaching. The old classrooms received fresh paint and new doors. The career center was enlarged to make room for more interview space and other recruiting facilities. Only one development was absent—a centralized, multi-functional gathering place. This summer, the old familiar hangar which housed the Thunderbird "jets" in the '40s, and the Pub subsequently, has been undergoing renovation to fill that need.

By November, AGSIM will have a new activities center, spacious enough to accommodate between 1,200 and 1,500 people, replete with bar, kitchen facilities, and wired for sound. It will serve the AGSIM community for such purposes as meetings, seminars, dinners, movies, and parties. According to Lee Stickland, vice president for business affairs, its doors will be open for the first time to service the 8th Annual Hot Air Affair on November 5.

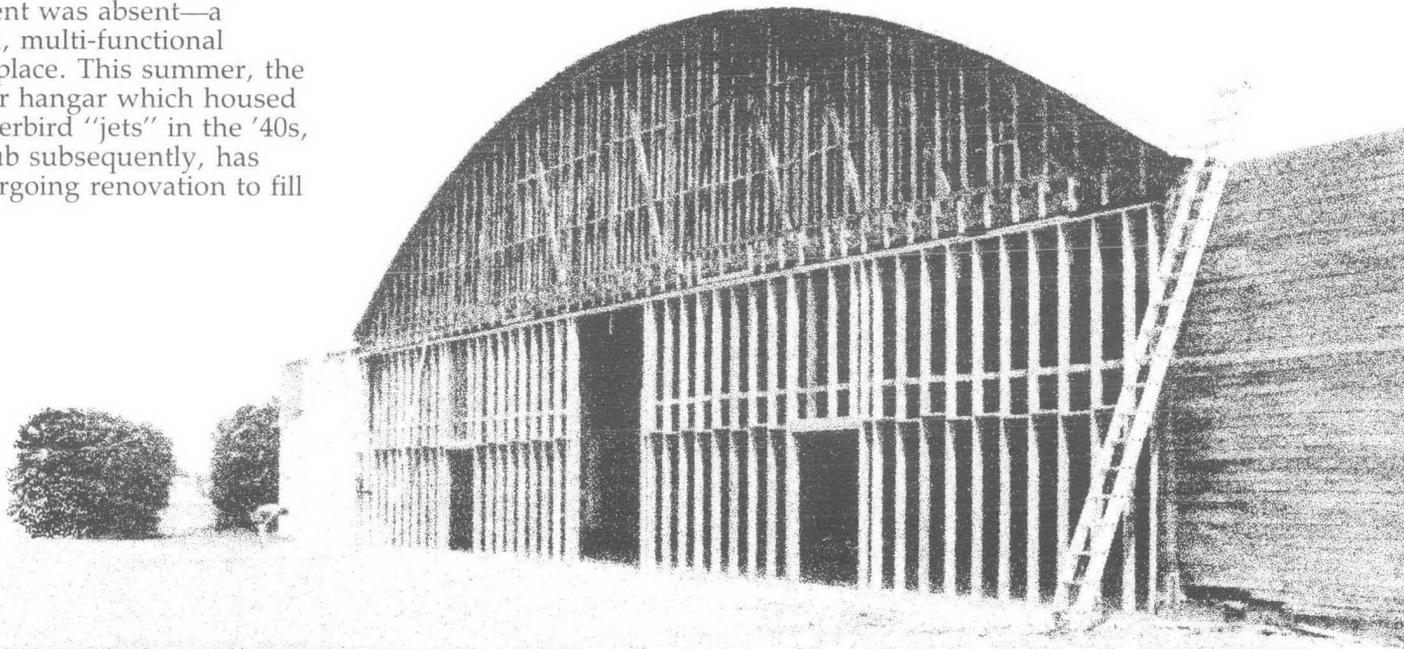

The idea for the center first came up two years ago at the Balloon Race of 1980, when Dr. Voris remarked publicly that that type of facility was needed. The idea germinated until this summer when recent operating surpluses generated the funds for the project, which will cost approximately $300,000.

Stickland outlined some of the features of the renovation such as a drop-down divider to partition the space for smaller gatherings, an evaporative cooling system which has the flexibility to later be converted to centralized cooling and heating at low cost, auditorium style front doors, and modern restroom facilities. He also discussed some of the cost-saving features of the auditorium such as the leveling of the floor to reduce clean up costs, no permanent seating fixtures to reduce set-up costs, storage space for chairs which will save on chair rental costs, and the fact that the kitchen facilities will save steps for the caterers, which will be the dining hall in most cases. Stickland also added that because the new center can accommodate more people than any other building in Glendale, the center possibly will generate revenue from rental.

I can hear the question, "What about the Pub?" The Pub will remain in its present location but it, too, will be renovated. The renovation is scheduled for the latter part of 1982, so as not to conflict with current use, and will be funded completely by revenue generated from operations. It is a little known fact but the Pub has been self-sustaining since its first period of operation when it was given $1,200 by the ASLC in 1971. The $75,000 renovation will double the size of the facility, replace the ceiling, modernize the locker-style restrooms, and improve the interior decor. It will still serve the finest selection of imported beer in the desert.

The face of AGSIM it is a changin'! Those of you who have been a few years away from the school will be surprised on your next visit out, which we welcome heartily. Come on by, have a drink in the new Pub, see the transformations and feel the pulse of the school. Though the face has changed, AGSIM still does what it always did best—train students to be international business people. The new structures merely enhance the effort.

PROFILES

'80 Alum in T-Bird "Dream Job"

When Cliff Samuelson graduated in '80, he began a job with a firm which has as its objectives encouraging and assisting U.S. based firms to begin exporting programs and assisting existing importing companies to increase their export sales.

He joined Sell Overseas America as regional director and is now based in New York. His job involves all aspects of the association's services including overseeing a research staff, providing trade leads, an ombudsman service, a referral system for special areas of expertise and the association's publications including a newspaper, magazine and annual membership directory.

Cliff says he is happy to be involved in the association's effort in encouraging and facilitating export trade. He adds, "I am in constant communication with 20-30 exporters on a daily basis, as well as meeting vice presidents and directors of the largest U.S. banks, Chambers of Commerce, state, federal and international commerce departments, etc. Truly, the cause and principles of our association are one and the same as those of AGSIM."

Cliff welcomes hearing from students and alumni and can be reached at the SOS America office in New York.

Grad Heads Western Foreign Trade Program

Cindy Ogburn had been a portrait photographer and a newspaper editor before she attended AGSIM in 1973.

After graduation from AGSIM she joined the business development department of Bechtel Corporation's Pipeline and Production Services Division in San Francisco where she performed financial analyses and market studies. Moving to Houston as public relations and advertising manager for King-Wilkinson, Inc., she established a worldwide advertising program for the firms.

In 1976, Cindy began working as an independent consultant in Houston and Denver. In 1978 she was appointed deputy director of the Old West Regional Commission's Frankfurt, Germany office. There she assisted the states of Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska in foreign trade, reverse investment and tourism opportunities.

Following her contract period in Germany, she returned to Wyoming as Economic Planner for the Department of Economic Planning and Development for the state. She spearheaded the state's investigation of coal exporting to the Pacific Rim. Later she was appointed by Wyoming Governor Ed Herschler to chair the organizational committee of the Rocky Mountain Foreign Trade Conference in conjunction with Montana, North Dakota, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. The conference was held in late spring, 1982, at the Scottsdale Conference Resort.

Cindy was able to visit campus on several occasions during the organization of the Foreign Trade Conference and share with us some of the details of her exciting career.

The conference involved more Thunderbirds than Cindy, however. Sales manager of the Scottsdale Conference Resort is Rich McNeill ('76), Dirk Moonen ('77) is with the Arizona Department of Economic Planning and Development, Ernest L. Kangas ('73) served on the export financing and insurance panel and

Ogburn '73

Samuelson '80

Dan Sprague ('66) is executive director of Western Governors' Conference in San Francisco. Charles B. Malone ('71) is manager of international marketing for Flying Tigers in Los Angeles and Carlos Martinez ('78) is foreign trade specialist for the State of New Mexico. In addition, AGSIM world business department Chairman Clifton Cox served on a panel at the conference.

Cindy worked diligently on the RMFTC and word of her success reached AGSIM by reports from many alums in the West who attended the conference. Another example of a job well done by a T-Bird. Congratulations, Cindy!

Word has just been received that Cindy has been named director of the Western Governors' Conference Foreign Trade Program (includes 14 western states and three Pacific territories). She will also be leading a six-state trade mission to Alberta, Canada this fall, and has been named Governor Herschler's alternate to the Board of Directors and Executive Committee for the Council of Export Trading Companies, Inc., a Washington, D.C. based firm.
